Insurance

Trip insurance is highly recommended. This will cover any expenses arising from cancellation of the trip, any illness during the trip and in some cases medical evacuation. The following web sites are a good place to start. Be sure to enter the cost of your airfare when calculating the total cost of the trip.

www.insuremytrip.com - Try this site first. They have an excellent way to compare a bunch of policies. Be sure to include trip cancellation and medical.

www.globaltravelschield.com -This is underwritten by American Express. If you have an AmEx card you can possibly qualify for extended coverage/discounts. Consult your card helpline.

www.aaatripinsurance.com -This is AAA's trip insurance program. You can also check your local AAA office.

www.travelguard.com- Another company specializing in trip insurance.

Some people also consult their own insurance company to see if there are any rider policies available.
